THE OFFICIAL WEATHER MAP.

EXPLANATORY NOTE! Observations taken at 8 a.m., 75th meridian time. Solid lines are isobard or lines of equal air pressure, drawn for each tenth of an inch. Dotted lines are isotherms or lines of equal temperature, drawn for each ten degrees. Shaded areas are regions where rain or snow has fallen during preceding twelve hours. The words "High" and "Low" show location of areas of bigh and low barometer. Small arrows fly with the wind.

A FAIR SUNDAY,

But There is Continued High Tem-perature Also Indicated. A ridge of high pressure extends from the Florida coast to the north Pacific. The storm has remained nearly stationary in Ontario. Rain has fallen in a strip about 200 miles wide from Newfoundland to New Mexico. The following heavy rainfalls, in inches, were reported during the past twenty-four hours: Port Huron, 1.10; Grand Haven, 1.14; Chicago, 3.46; Milwaukee, 1.18; Davenport, 4.36; Des Moines, 1.72; Keokuk, 1.16; Kan-sas City, 1.38; Omaha, 1.36; Harnibal, 1.28. The temperature has risen in the Atlantic states, has fallen in the Missouri valley and has remained stationary elsewhere.

Forecast till 8 p.m. Sunday—For Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, showers to-day and on the coast tonight, probably fair and slightly cooler Sunday; variable winds, ecoming westerly.
For Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and eastern New York, showers this afternoon, followed by fair; probably slightly cooler Sunday afternoon; westerly winds.

For the District of Columbia, eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware,
Maryland and Virginia, fair; southwesterly

It is understood that a strong effort will be made by the Washington members of the conclave, backed by a large number of others from various parts of the country, to elect Eminent Commander Frank H. Thomas of Columbia Commandery to the grand recordership. In case the effort is successful it is more than likely the head-quarters of the Knights Templar of the United States will be removed to Washington. W. Vinson.

con. Columbia Commandery entertained large number of friends yesterday afternoon with an inspection, followed by an exhibition drill by its drill squad, which is to compete for prizes at the Boston conclave. The ceremonies took place in Capitol Park, North Capitol and G streets, to tol Park, North Capitol and G streets, to which place the commandery marched, headed by the Mount Pleasant Field Band. After the commandery passed in review and was inspected by Eminent Commander Thomas and staff, the drill squad was formed and, under command of Captain Charles S. Domer, gave an interesting exhibition. The drill was a revelation to the spectators, who explanded generously. spectators, who applauded generously. Columbia Commandery and its friends are gonfident of the success of its squad in competition with the others to be met at Boston.

Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock sharp the commandery will assemble in full Templar uniform in front of the hotel. Horses will be in readiness, and, after formation, preceded by the buglers, the commandery will report to the chief of the first division for assignment in the procession. The route of the parade has been already published in The Star. De Molay Commandery of Boston has provided for the ladies from Washington comfortable and convenient places for witnessing the parade.

On the following day, at the invitation of De Molay of Boston, De Molay of Washington and the ladies accompanying them will participate in a grand excursion down the harbor. It is expected to leave the hotel between 11 and 12 o'clock and sail to Nantasket Beach, returning to the hotel in Boston not later than 8:30 p.m.

Thursday until 3 p.m. the sir knights and ladies will be afforded the opportunity to visit old Faneuil Hall, the old state house, old South Church and King's Chapel, while De Morry Commandery.

Sir E. G. Schafer, chairman of the committee of arrangements of De Molay Commandery, No. 4, yesterday issued the following itinerary of the trip of the commandery:

The commandery will assemble in citizens' dress at the Baltimore and Ohio depot, New Jersey avenue and C street, Sunday morning, August 25, at 9:30 o'clock, taking 10 o'clock special train through to Jersey City. Refreshments will be served on the train by the committee.

On arriving at Jersey City the commodious and well-equipped steamer Connecticut will be found to be in waiting, and will leave not later than 5 p.m. Dinner will be ready on the boat upon the arrival of the pilgrims and continue until all have dined. The city of Providence will be reached about 6 a.m. Monday. Breakfast will be served on the boat from 5 to 7:30. At 8 a.m. the sir knights of De Molay will report to the captain general of the commandery in full uniform, and a special train will take the party to Boston, reach-

Carriages will be in waiting at the depot for the ladies accompanying the knights, and will convey them to Copley Square Hotel, which will be the headquarters of De Molay during the conclave. De Molay having accepted the offer of an escort courteously extended to them by De Molay Commandery of Boston, will, after the usual customary reception, march to Copley Square Hotel. The afternoon and evening will be devoted to visiting or rest, as may be desired.

Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock sharp the commandery will assemble in full Templar uniform in front of the hotel. Horses will be in readliness, and, after formation, preceded by the buglers, the commandery will report to the chief of the first division for assignment in the procession. Hawk Dies in Midair.

Middletown (Ct.) Dispatch to the New York Sun. The ferry boat Brownstone was churning her way leisurely across the Connecticut to Portland village yesterday, and had just about reached the middle of the broad stream when Capt. Rowland espied a big fish hawk floating far above, and it behaved queerly, as if it was in distress. Intermittently it floated tranquilly, its wide wings outspread and motionless; then it staggered, but recovered itself instantly with a hitch, then spun about dizzily. There was no doubt in the captain's mind that the bird was sorely troubled to keep its equilibrium and steerage way, and, glanc-ing now at his boat's course and again at the blue sky, continued to watch the aerial the blue sky, continued to watch the aerial traveler.

"The bird is sick," said the pilot confidentially to himself, "Things are about up with it."

The next moment his conviction was verified, for the hawk, which was not less than 300 feet aloft, suddenly took a violent dip forward, reeled sideways, let fall its pinions, and the next instant shot down to the river, striking the water with the concussion and impact of a solid shot. It lay right where it fell, motionless, and was carried swiftly southward by the strong current.

"The hawk was dead, without a doubt, long before it reached the river," affirmed the captain, "and probably," he added, "its death was caused by heart disease."

No one in this region recalls another incident in which a wild bird, particularly a bird of prey, perished under similar circumstances; still, experienced poultrymen say that not infrequently overfed domestic fowls die of apoploxy. They just pitch forward off their roost and die instantly.

A Regatta Extra.

An extra Star will be issued this evening after the last race of the Potomac regatta is rowed, giving a full account of the events of the regatta, the wesult of the great race for the Futurity stakes, reports of base ball games and other sporting news up to the hour of issue. Claims Damages for Injuries.

Mary Conner today entered suit at law against the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company to recover $10,000 damages. The plaintiff claims that September 20, 1894, she was thrown from a cable car at 1st street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest and seriously injured.

Live Snake in a Woman's Arm. From the St. Louis Republic.

A most remarkable affliction, and one of nature calculated to make one's flesh creep, has long been endured by an old lady of the Willoby neighborhood, near Columbia, S. C. The lady's name is Phoebe Brown, and for more than one-third of century she has carried a live snake unde the skin of one of her arms. How the reptile found lodgment in such a peculiar place is as much of a mystery to Mrs. I rown as it is to the hundreds of people who annually visit her for the purpose of viewing the spot where the unwelcome lodger lies encysted. When the lady first noticed the bow-shaped welt on her arm it was not more than two inches long, or larger in diameter than a pin. But during the years that it has safely nestled in her fiesh, absorbing the woman's blood, it has grown from a mere thread to be a snake more than a foot in length and as large as a lead penc!. The eyes of the hideous creature are plainly visible through the woman's skin, and the scales can be easily felt by rubbing the fingers along the ridge formed by the serpent's body.

Physicians pronounce it a most remarkable freak, and have endeavored, without success, to prevail upon the old lady to have it cut out. reptile found lodgment in such a pecu
